

ADAM KAHANE

Adam Kahane is a Director at Reos Partners, a global social impact company dedicated to supporting sustainable and equitable progress on humanity's most crucial challenges.

He is an internationally renowned organizer, designer and facilitator of complex and conflictual multi-stakeholder processes through which business, government, and civil society leaders collaborate to address such challenges.

Adam has worked in more than fifty countries, with executives and politicians, generals and guerrillas, civil servants and trade unionists, community activists and United Nations officials, clergy and artists.

He is also a best-selling author of six books about this work, is a Member of the Order of Canada, and in 2022, he was named a Schwab Foundation Social Innovation Thought Leader of the Year at the World Economic Forum in Davos.

CONNECT WITH ADAM

adamkahane.com

kahane@reospartners.com

linkedin.com/adam-kahane

Pre-order Adam's latest book: Everyday Habits for Transforming Systems: The Catalytic Power of Radical Engagement

Reos Partners is a social impact company specializing in enabling transformative collaboration, even in situations of high complexity, uncertainty, and polarization. For 30 years, Reos has pioneered innovative approaches to effecting systemic transformation toward a more sustainable, equitable, and peaceful world.

reospartners.com