

Convening for Systems Change: How to Bring the Right People Together for Sustainable Impact

A ONE DAY IN-PERSON COURSE IN GENEVA
OCTOBER 19, 2024

Convening: To assemble, to come or bring together

Diverse people gather continuously, all over the world, across sectors and perspectives, in events and processes addressing societal challenges.

They are brought together by “convenors”. But what is required to bring the right people together for genuine and sustainable impact? What insights and capabilities make a great convenor? That is the subject of this course.

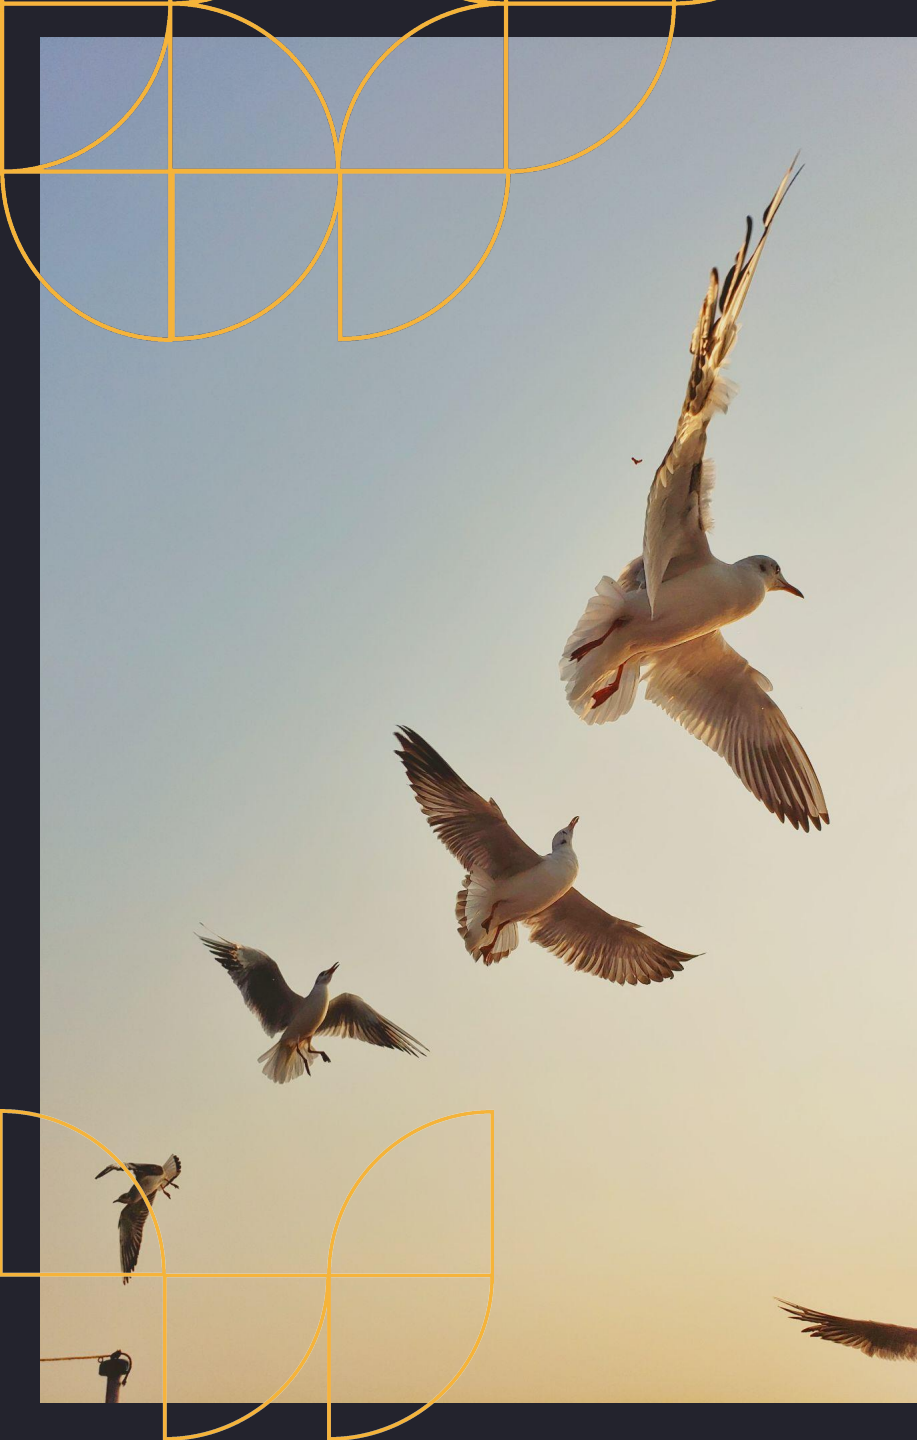

Course Overview

What's the course about?

How can we bring the right people together and create a conducive environment for collaborative transformation to take place? In this one-day intensive course, participants will learn the art and science of convening among diverse stakeholders in order to bring about systems change.

Who is this course for?

This course has been designed particularly for those who are ready to bring diverse groups of people together, and are seeking the skills and insights to maximize the impact of their collaborative efforts.

Reos Partners

Reos Partners is an international social enterprise that helps people move forward together on their most important and intractable challenges. We design, facilitate, and guide processes that enable teams of stakeholders—even those who don't understand or agree with or trust one another—to make progress on their toughest challenges.

Our approach is systemic, collaborative, and creative. We partner with governments, corporations, and civil society organizations on challenges such as education, health, food, energy, environment, development, justice, security, and peace. Our work is always grounded and tailored to the needs of the specific situation.

We operate both globally and locally, with a team based in over 15 countries on 4 continents. Our name comes from the Greek “rheos,” which means “flow.”

We welcome a conversation with you.
